

ELA

---

MINI LESSONS

MRS. LOVE

---

Climax and Resolution:

How does the climax lead to the resolution of the story? Compare and contrast examples.

The Climax and Character Development: Analyze how the decisions made by characters during the climax reveal their true nature.

Creating Your Own Climax:
Students write their own short story or scene, focusing on building to a strong climax.

Mini Lessons on Genre

Identifying Genre Elements:
Students read excerpts from different genres and identify key elements that categorize them.

Genre and Audience: Discuss how different genres appeal to different audiences.

Genre Mixing: Students are given the task to mix two different genres in a creative writing exercise.

How Genre Affects

Climax: Discuss how the genre can dictate the type of climax a story can have. Use specific examples for illustration.

Mini Lessons on Annotations

Introduction to

Annotations:

Why do we annotate and what value does it bring to reading?

Practical Annotation

Exercise:

Students annotate a poem
or a page from a novel, identifying literary devices, unfamiliar words,
and their reactions.

Sharing Annotations: In groups, students share their annotations and discuss the different perspectives gained through this exercise.

Annotations and Close

Reading:

How can annotations help in a close reading of a text?

Focus particularly on how it helps to identify the climax and allusions.

Mini Lessons on Allusions

What Are Allusions?:

Define allusion and provide examples from various texts.

Allusions and Context:

Discuss how understanding the source of an allusion can provide deeper meaning to a text.

Allusions in Popular Culture:
Identify allusions in movies, songs, or TV shows and discuss how they contribute to the meaning.

Creating Your Own Allusions:

A writing exercise where students use allusions in a paragraph or short story.

Cross-Concept Mini Lessons

Climax and Genre:

Examine how the climax can differ depending on the genre of the story.

Annotations for Identifying Allusions: Use annotation techniques specifically to identify and understand allusions in a given text.

Allusions in Climax: Analyze how allusions in the climax of a story can enhance the emotional impact or meaning.

Genre and Allusions:

Discuss how different genres have their own set of commonly alluded texts or ideas.